Glen Cove Mansion Hotel and Conference Center Introduces “Imagine It - We Can Do It” Meeting Packages

Glen Cove, New York, January 2011 ... The award-winning, I.A.C.C.-certified Glen Cove Mansion Hotel and Conference <http://www.glencovemansion.com/> Center, one of the nation’s first dedicated conference center hotels, has introduced “Imagine It - We Can Do It” meeting packages for 2011. The “Imagine It - We Can Do It” concept enables planners to build the meeting package that works best for them. “Imagine It - We Can Do It” packages start at just $239 per person.

Glen Cove Mansions’ complete meeting package includes multiple components, and with “Imagine It - We Can Do It” meetings, elements can be added, or subtracted, or even modified as needed, enabling maximum flexibility to meeting and event planners.

“We’ve found that planners are looking for flexibility as well as value with their meetings,” said Ata Kashanian, vice president and managing director of Glen Cove Mansion Hotel and Conference Center. “One package does not fit all needs. So we’ve responded with our new “Imagine It – We Can Do It” package, enabling planners to build the best package to meet their requirements.”

Additionally, Glen Cove Mansion is also providing planners the opportunity to expand their meetings' value during 2011. For every new meeting booked and consumed before March 31st, 2011, Glen Cove Mansion will take 10 percent* off their meeting master account.

Glen Cove Mansion Hotel and Conference Center is located just 30 minutes from New York City on an historic and secluded 55-acre Long Island estate, on Long Island's legendary North Shore. Today the property is a state-of-the-art conference center hotel with 27 meeting rooms, 187 first-class guestrooms, and award-winning meeting and event services.
